
Disco/left field disco MP3 help needed.

Posted by Carcass - 21-11-2008 14:16

Hello,

Just remembered I have to DJ a 'left field disco' night with a loose Arthur Russell theme tonight and I'm completely discombobulated.

Does anyone have any of the following tunes they can care and share before 7pm this evening. I know it's a big ask so any help is appreciated.

Walking On Thin Ice by Yoko
Macho City by Steve Harley
Paw Kaliga by The Residents (or anything like Diskow by The Residents)
My Spine Is The Bassline by Shriekback
Knife Cuts Water by ACR
Turn To Red by Killing Joke (disco mixes)

Or anything else by Loose Joints, Was Not Was etc

Any suggestions appreciated.

You might not find those tracks here, but if it's disco of the rare/unusual/underground variety you're after, this blog will do you well:

You may already have grabbed some Arthur Russell himself, of course, but just in case:

'Love is Overtaking Me'

'World of Echo' (Part 1) (Part 2)

'Spring Field'

Any African-tinged disco you've got might be an idea.

More weird stuff (and blog references) to follow.

I'm at work so I can't oblige, but here are some track suggestions (you should be able to find some of them on hypemachine or totatllyfuzzy):

Was (Not Was) - Tell Me That I'm Dreaming, Out Come The Freaks, Wheel Me Out

Loose Joints - Go Bang!, Is It All Over My face, Tell You Today, Shoot The Pump

Dinosaur L - Kiss Me Again (one of the 12-minute versions if you can find them: they've more upbeat and pounding)

Class Action - Weekend (Larry Levan remix)

Sparque - Let's Go Dancin' (Larry Levan remix)

Strafe - Set it Off (Walter Gibbons mix)

Alexander Robotnik - Problems D'amour

Telex - Moskow Diskow (Carl Craig remix)

Yukihiro Takahasi - Extraordinary

LL and Wingco have got it about spot on - as I knew they would - but please don't use the Carl Craig mix of Moskow Diskow. (Sorry, LL!) The original 12" version will soon be with you, just in case you don't already have it.

Clive, with your evil powers would you be capable of tracking down Peter Zummo's Zummo With An X (on which Arthur Russell plays cello) on a blog somewhere? I can't find it anywhere.

Just tell the Plan B kids it's "Italo" and they'll have to pretend they really like it.

Half of my recommendations aren't particularly "left field" really, just great, well-produced disco tracks that didn't make the charts but were big hits in your legendary NY discos. Taana Gardner's 'Heartbeat' and NYC Peech Boys' 'Don't Make Me Wait' would be two more along those lines.

Hang on, you could play a load of Ze Records stuff too:

James White and The Blacks - Contort Yourself
Coati Mundi - Que Pasa
Lizzy Mercier Descloux - Fire

And of the new old disco lot, Glass Candy's "I Always Say Yes" is a winner. Like Blondie produced by Moroder.

the good Chakk stuff is all available here its all about the debut out of the flesh 12" for me.

for me, the rest is almost as good.

just a shame they succumbed to the lure of ££ and went onto make a pretty drab album for MCA.

having said that their final self released 12", ticking time bomb .. was a superb way to bow out.

20 years on and these 12" still sound massive.

I've got the DVD if you ever want to borrow it. Matt Wolf did a really good job, even if it does neglect the disco years a little (apparently because the disco people he interviewed were a bit monosyllabic).

Some cares and shares for anyone who wants them:

Strafe - Set It Off (Walter Gibbons mix)

Lizzie Mercier Descloux - Fire (her cover of the Crazy World Of Arthur Brown)

Dinosaur L - Kiss Me Again (13 minutes of straight-ahead disco might. That's David Byrne cranking his plank.)

Richie Havens did the original "Going Back To My Roots" - I think - but it's been covered by loads of people, and had a couple of nasty early-90s remixes too. I don't know the Krivit edit, though.

One thing I noticed in the documentary is that you needed an enormous, Easter Island statue-esque face to be an experimental musician in NY in the 1970s. You won't find one without.

Just a quick thread hi-jack that if anyone fancies hearing some 'disco-not-disco' (in between more traditional orchestral stuff and throbbing hi-NRG) they should pop down to the WE PLAY DISCO night at The Legion on Old St this Saturday. We'll be playing this kind of stuff from 8-2, and it's free to get in. Thanks...

Anything you say on this board can be used against you in court, G.O.

Especially the Rotherham stuff.

It's going to take me ages to listen to the stuff on this thread.

Do Defunkt count as left-field? I'm not at all MP3-ed up, so here's a Youtube link for The Razor's Edge.

Gil Scott-Heron's anti-Reagan rant, B Movie, could be the alt end-of-the-night slow number. The Youtube limit means you don't get all of it.

I'm not sure whether Front 242 counts as disco (although there is a smoother re-mix), but I've always liked Headhunter.

I've always thought that Suicide's second album was their best. You never hear Bobby Gillespie and Jason Pierce going on about it in interviews in between talking about the Black Panthers and 'Bitches Brew' though, so I have to question whether it is genuinely any good or not.
