

---

Have we had a subbuteo thread in the new world?

Posted by Jorge Porbillas - 25-04-2008 11:08

---

Harry Pearson in the Guardian

=====

Re:Have we had a subbuteo thread in the new world?

Posted by Pretend Best Friend - 25-04-2008 11:50

---

Pearson is spot on

http://i23.ebayimg.com/01/i/000/ea/95/f1fb\_1.JPG

Wonderful noisy game, I believe it needed about six of those huge batteries to run.

=====

Re:Have we had a subbuteo thread in the new world?

Posted by Harry Carpenter - 25-04-2008 12:05

---

Wasn't there a superior Ice Hockey version?

=====

Re:Have we had a subbuteo thread in the new world?

Posted by Baroudeur - 25-04-2008 12:12

---

Ha my mate brings that in to work every christmas eve! We sit in the pub playing it. He's so good at it he actually does impressions of the noises it makes!

=====

Re:Have we had a subbuteo thread in the new world?

Posted by sixmartletsandaseagull - 25-04-2008 13:23

---

Sure Shot Hockey?

=====

Re:Have we had a subbuteo thread in the new world?

Posted by Nishlord - 25-04-2008 14:48

---

I remember that ice hockey one. They had one in Redmayne & Todd in town for £120, and it looked, to my 10 year-old eyes, the best thing EVER.

=====

Re:Have we had a subbuteo thread in the new world?

Posted by ursus arctos - 25-04-2008 18:00

---

We had an earlier version of this:

<http://tablehockeygames.com/colecosc.jpg>

and it was in fact the best thing ever.

The players looked like this:

---

<http://tablehockeygames.com/tneagman.jpg>

=====