
Drinks Wed 2nd July. London.

Or Friday 4th if you like; I think I'll be dragging people to the Louise both evenings anyway, trying to quell the panic and terror brought on by imminent middle age.

I'm starting a new thread cos the old one wouldn't let me change its title. So sue me!

Will Friday be the fourth of July in the UK too? I thought it was an American thing.

Well I did turn up in the end, and Ly's and GO company was as ever super.

Letching at Lyra's minions was also fun, but I decided to away home for a quiet pint in my local. Which turned out to have a band playing and late drinking cos someone was leaving for Ireland.

A good night.
