Ooh, get her!

I've never even heard of this woman.

The actress LisaRaye McCoy-Misick, who is married to the premier of the Turks and Caicos Islands and is a friend of Lil' Kim's, attended the party, and said in a telephone interview early Thursday morning: "When I was there, everything was cool. But we didn't stay very long. Celebrities never do. And everything was fine then."

Not too surprising. I haven't heard of a single movie she's been in.

I've heard of a couple of those movies, but haven't seen them.

And why all the emphasis on who she's married to? It's not really relevant to the story, I don't think.

I think she a gold-diggah.

I wouldn't have let her in to my party. Unless she brought a bottle of something decent.

In her case, chloroform. I've never heard of this LisaSigourneyRaymondBaxter-McChickenNuggetsMystic and suspect this will remain the same ever after. Well known in the States, perhaps, bugger all in recognition terms over here.

But we didn't stay very long. Celebrities never do.

What do they do? Just go home for an early night?

Yeah, they put on the granny slippers and have a Horlick's before passing out in front of the TV at 11pm.
